New Cane Loader.

W. H. Lambert, formerly of the Hilo Railroad, has perfected a cane loader, which for simplicity of construction and operation ought to appeal to every planter. His principle is an endless cable running between two towers, which conveys the cane for a distance of three hundred feet in the field to the car or flume, where by a simple operation the bundles are lowered into the vehicle or flume. The loader is operated with a small three-horse power gasoline engine, and can be moved to any part of the field without difficulty. Mr. Lambert went to Honolulu Friday to present his invention to several agents of island plantations. The machines will be sold on a royalty basis.

Prospects For July Races.

Already the members of the Hawaii Jockey Club are making arrangements for a splendid race meet on July 4th, as will appear from the advertisement appearing in this issue. The horsemen are evincing great interest in the meeting and since word comes from Honolulu that the 11th of June races there have been abandoned, the management will endeavor to attract the string of fast runners of the capital city. The public may be sure that under the supervision of the Hawaii Jockey Club they will be furnished with a good day's sport.

AFTER JAPANESE.

Efforts to induce Japanese laborers to go to San Francisco.

It is reported that efforts are being made by J. P. Ball, a lawyer formerly of Honolulu, now at Victoria, B. C., to entice Japanese laborers from Hawaii to migrate to the Coast, with a view of sending them to South America. A local representative is said to be now on the ground making the arrangements. Japanese have been going to San Francisco and the California coast only to be disappointed in securing higher wages, and some of them have returned to their former haunts in these islands. Ball's plans are surrounded with a secrecy according to Seattle dispatches, but that he is making arrangements for a large consignment of Japanese labor from the island plantations is certain.

The Weekly Hawaii Shippo, published at Honolulu, contains the following reference to the matter:

Honolulu and Hilo are soon to receive calls from some steamers from the coast coming after Japanese passengers to San Francisco and Seattle. At least two such steamers are already announced and the companies owning or chartering them are advertising in the local Japanese press.

The S. N. Steamship Company is advertising the well known steamer Centennial, to come to Honolulu and Hilo about March 25, and to make monthly trips thereafter, from San Francisco to Hilo and Honolulu and back, with Hilo as the principal port at this end. The steamer wants laborers as passengers, and she will go to the island where it is thought that the largest number can be had. Inducements are being offered which the charterers hope will result in the steamers being crowded with Japanese steerage passengers every trip. The Oriental Trading Company of Seattle is another concern which is about to send a steamer here. This company's vessel is the Olympia, and it is announced in the advertisements that she will be here about April 18. She is to carry Japanese passengers and freight to Seattle, and special inducements are being offered to passengers.

Combine Against Hawaiian Bananas.

A local banana grower has received a letter from his agent in San Francisco showing the methods adopted by commission men on the coast which is the cause of such small returns. An extract from the letter is: "It's a pretty tough proposition—this banana business now. The Eastern banana people are killing the price on Hawaiian fruit by simply unloading several carloads at the time the S. S. Enterprise arrives and selling their own fruit at very low figures. Their bunches are twice the size of ours and sell at about $1.00 a bunch. This results in knocking the price of Hawaiian bananas down to nothing. The Hilo grower should organize and come into this market solid. If they do not they are going to be beaten right along. You are at the mercy of the commission men and things are getting worse." Some shippers last month only realized thirteen cents a bunch and one man's net proceeds on a $300 shipment was $8.00.

The Micks' Dance.

Elaborate preparations are in progress for the Emerald Dance to be given by the Hilo Cotillion Club next Friday night at Spreckels Hall. The Decoration Committee under the supervision of Miss Ivy Richardson, chairman, have under way a decoration scheme that will be both unique and original. The prevailing colors of course will be green, commemorative of the land of the Shamrock and it has been suggested that the management erect a spacious "Blarney stone" where the loquacious lovers can renew their inspiration in the search for new worlds to conquer. The liquid refreshments will be entirely temperance drinks, so that the dance is not expected to end in a wake as somebody has prophesied.

The Olua Mill Grinds.

The Olua Sugar Company began grinding last Tuesday, and on last Sunday night Manager Watt put on a night shift, so that the mill is now running night and day. Wm. Weight has been employed as assistant to Sugar Boiler Fincke, and Fred G. Snow is assistant engineer in charge of the night work. Engineer Harry Wicks has had the mill in readiness for several weeks past, but the delay was necessary on account of the lack of water to flume the cane. There is ample water now in the Kamauna flume and no apprehension is felt regarding a further shut down on account of dry weather.

SMALL PLANTERS' MILL.

W. R. Castle Proposes to Erect One in South Kona.

W. R. Castle, Attorney D. L. Withington, of Honolulu, and Prof. Geo. H. Mead, of Chicago University, accompanied by his small son, were Hilo visitors over Thursday as the guests of Mrs. E. G. Hitchcock on School street. The party have been on Hawaii for the past ten days, visiting the two Kona's, ascending Mauna Kea and stopping at Kilauea on the trip overland from Kailua. After leaving Hilo on Sunday night about dark much fatigued by their long journey, but descended into the crater to witness the lava flow, which was quite active. All were much pleased with the grandeur of the scenery, both of Kilauea and the higher elevations. They took the Kinau Friday morning for Honolulu.

Mr. Castle has formulated a scheme of building a cooperative mill near Napoopoo, to grind the cane of small individual planters in that vicinity. Mr. Castle has sought to encourage cane growing in the two Kona's, believing it means the up-building of that side of the island. Hence his purpose to erect a central mill where the output of small planters for miles around could be ground.

Some years ago, cane was grown between Napoopoo and Hookena at Mr. Castle's solicitation, and while it was never harvested, Mr. Castle reimbursed all of the owners of this cane, as he had asked them to grow it, thinking that by the time it would be ready to be harvested that there would be a mill ready. Mr. Castle has not given the idea up and there are men like former Manager Hewitt of Naalehu, who think the plan a good one. He only wants to hear from his brother J. B. Castle, who is in the East negotiating for funds, machinery, etc.

W. R. Castle's scheme is to build a sugar mill at Kealahou bay, near Napoopoo, which would be able to grind all the cane that could be grown upon the land of the old Kona Sugar Co. and certain lands called Kei, Honanuan, Keokea and Kalea, which lie between Napoopoo and Hookena, in South Kona. One of the chief causes of the failure of the Kona Sugar Co. was the inability to get the cane to the mill at a reasonable cost, owing to the long distance that some of the cane had to be transported. Were a mill erected at Napoopoo the cane could be dry flumed at a low cost, because of the steep incline of the surrounding hills. Should this proposition go through the new plantation would be a large one, as there would be much new land planted to cane in South Kona, which was not available to the old Kona Sugar Co. Citizens of North and South Kona are taking keen interest in the project.

A Record Trip.

For a wind jammer, the ship John Ena, W. A. Madsen, master, holds the record for the best run from Shanghai to the Hawaiian Islands. The vessel arrived off port Wednesday afternoon and was brought to anchor inside of the buoy by the tug Chas. Counselman about nine o'clock in the evening. The ship made the passage from Shanghai, China to Hilo, a distance of 4,929 miles in 22 days. A part of the voyage was made in steamer time, 310 miles being made in one day. During the first eighteen days only a distance of 240 miles was made, but during the remainder of the trip, nearly 300 miles a day was covered. The daily average for the entire trip was 214 miles a day.

The John Ena comes in ballast to load sugar for Philadelphia. On her arrival at the Quaker City, the vessel will have made a complete circuit of the world. Leaving Philadelphia on August 10, laden with 114,625 cases of kerosine the voyage around Cape Good Hope was made in 144 days. The ship cleared from Shanghai on February 14th, and passing the equator enjoyed two Mondays in one week. The John Ena was built in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1892 and for a long time sailed under Hawaiian registry. She is a steel bottom vessel, 312 feet long, 48 feet in breadth, 25 feet deep and having a tonnage of 2706. Captain Madsen who has been in the ship for over nine years is right proud of the record trip of the John Ena. Upon his arrival at Hilo he cabled his owners of his arrival and received in reply the two words "Good boy."
